

Rinse de Jong

Rinse de Jong (1948) has been a member of the Executive Board since 1 September 2002. Prior to joining Essent, De Jong held different positions at the publishing house Elsevier, which later became Reed Elsevier. Until 1996, he was Director Corporate Finance and subsequently Group Treasurer of Reed Elsevier PLC. From 1997 to 2001, De Jong was Vice President Finance and Chief Financial Officer of ASM International, a listed supplier of production solutions to the semi-conductor industry. Between 2001 and when he joined Essent, De Jong worked as an independent financial adviser.